PARENTS WARNED OF DANGER OF CHILDREN PLAYING AT DAM

With the advent of the warm weather, many local children have mapped their course of activity in the vicinity of the Bassano Dam as a resort to enjoy their leisure hours. Officials of the dam warn that the parents of these children of the dangers that are present when children are allowed to roam about without escort. Several cases of near accidents have been reported in the last two weeks, and unless great care is taken in the future, some local youngsters are going to suffer the misfortune of being seriously injured.

Dam officials welcome any visitors to the dam, but regret that they cannot spare the time to act as guardians to the large number of children who have been regular visitors of late.

CROP REPORT

Owing to late snowstorms and heavy spring floods in all of the Province (except west of Edmonton and the Peace River District) seeding in Alberta commenced later than usual this year. Cool weather and subsequent rains retarded its progress. Throughout this large area, only about sixty per cent of the wheat crop is now seeded and about ten per cent of the corn crops. The eastern portion of this area has been much delayed, while Lethbridge, Calgary, Red Deer, Edmonton, and the Peace River District, which are now seeding, have been considerably ahead. Throughout this area, moisture conditions are generally more favorable than they have been in many years.

The weather has remained cool and normal growth of cereal crops has been somewhat retarded. Most spring crop work was done up but it requires warmth to stimulate growth. The districts west of Edmonton to Athabasca and the Peace River area have been considerably ahead of the rest of the province in respect to the soil as well as the crops. In most cases there is ample moisture for germination but further warmth and moisture is required for satisfactory growth.

Throughout the Province, the weather has been cool and growth is slow. The winter of May 1938 caused some soil-drying damage on dry, loose, and little more loesslike than in areas where there has been more common, to date no widespread damage has been reported.

The eastern and south-eastern part of the Province has been unusually favored with copious precipitation, building up a fair moisture reserve in the subsoil, but it is not safe to assume that a big crop is assured without more moisture in June and favorable weather conditions in July.

Winter crops were through in excellent condition. Alfalfa, clover, good hay, and pastures are in prospect. There is a marked increase in the growth of alfalfa and clover. Preparations are made for adequate control of grasshoppers in districts where egg-laying was observed last fall. The hatch has been delayed by prevailing damp cool weather.

From a late stock pool of the winter in a large portion of the Province, was much more loesslike than has been the case for the past two or three years. In most areas the stock came through the winter in (continued on back page)

Local Scout Troop Goes to Rosemary

Following an invitation from the newly organized Boy Scout Troop at Rosemary, the First Troop of the Bassano Scouts paid a visit to Rosemary last Friday night. Twenty-four Scouts proceeded to the Rosemary point in cars kindly donated for the occasion by Sgt. C. H. Clark, Jack Fraser and M. R. Milroy, with the remainder going with Scout Master McEwen.

Although the time for the program to begin was set at 8 p.m., due to the rush of farm work most of the interested could not get in an appearance until later. As a result the boys arrived themselves on the spacious school grounds with bare ball heads, etc., until shortly after nine o'clock.

When sufficient people had finally arrived, the program commenced with the first aid lesson demonstrating their knowledge of some of the elementary principles of first aid, by question and answer method. This lesson consisted of Bill Hines, Richard and Paul Walsh, Stan Skarion and Nicky Isenberg.

A demonstration of Semaphore signalling was then given by the signal team led by Douglas MacLean, and consisting of Graham Cathro, John MacLean and Doug MacLean. As a special feature, Patrol Leader L. Currie demonstrated speed and accuracy in this type of work with an exhibition that would have been creditable marks in any signal school.

After that the entire troop lined up for a half hour of physical training exercises at which the Troop has really obtained a fair degree of efficiency after more than two years' effort. On this particular occasion the boys were on their best behavior and acquitted themselves respectably. Rosemary people expressed themselves as being quite pleased with the team work and timing of the play.

The Rosemary Troop has been a long organized, under the leadership of Mr. Palmer, who has been appointed Scoutmaster. The movement is being sponsored by the Roman Catholic Church and with the support that it will get from this source and other sources, it is believed that Rosemary, is almost certain to succeed. Membership in the Troop is not of course limited to children of members of the church, but is open to all and sundry in the community of the requisite age.

VISH STORY NO. 1

The first fish story of the 1938 season is credited to John Bohn, local angler, who reports the catch of a 97 pounder. The only snag to the story is that the fish was of the human variety, and non-believers of this story are urged to ask Stanley Skarion.

While casting at the dam on Sunday, John's minnow hook accidently struck Stanley on the lower jaw. The fangs of the hooks sank deeply into his flesh, fastening themselves as they do to fish. Luckily, John did not swing his line, causing the hooks to be torn from Stanley's face.

Mr. Schon of the Bassano Dam, rendered first aid, and with the aid of a pair of pliers, severed the hooks from the wooden minnow. Stanley was taken into town where Dr. Scott removed the remainder of the hooks and gave medical attention.

SPECIAL R. C. SERVICES SUNDAY

GIRL GUIDES REALIZE PROFIT FROM TEA AND SALE

The local Girl Guide Organization, under the leadership of Miss Houghton, realized a profit of about $7.00 at their Tea and Sale of Home Made Candies, held in the L.O.O.F. Hall on Sunday last. The girls were very pleased with the success of the event and wish to express their thanks to the many local citizens who supported them with their patronage.

Proceeds from the sale are to be used by the Bassano Girl Guide Organization in supplying further equipment for their needs.

Monday Night Meeting Condemns Alta. Statutes

Condemnation of five statutes passed at the last session of the Alberta Legislature was voted at a general meeting held in the Town Hall, on Monday evening called for the purpose of considering the legislation as a result of a resolution passed unanimously by the meeting a letter of protest will be sent to the Government-in-Council requesting the Federal Government to disallow the legislation.

Mr. Louis Manors former of Lethbridge, acted as Chairman of the meeting which was attended by over 100 persons representing agricultural and the business section of the community.

The acts which were considered and voted upon with condemnation at the hands of the meeting were: The Home Owners Security Act 1937; The Linkage Act 1937; The Tax Recovery Act 1937 and the 1938 Securities Tax Act.

Before adopting the resolution which was explained fully to the meeting and questions answered, it was also decided to call a further general meeting of farmers to consider these statutes and in addition, the Production Tax Act. This meeting will be held at the Old Hall at 8 p.m. on Monday, June 6th at 8 p.m. Mr. Munroe and Mr. J. A. Donaldson undertook to make the necessary arrangements for the meeting including the matter of publicity and advertising.

The Home Owners Security Act

The Home Owners Security Act may be divided into two parts: first, the act which relates to the mortgage of a farmer and his family, and secondly, the act which relates to the mortgage of a farmer and his family. The act is designed to protect the farmer and his family from the mortgagee's power to take proceedings against a farmer on his home quarter where the mortgagee has been granted prior to March 31st 1937. For example, the case of a farmer who decided to sell his farm to another farmer for the sum of $2,000 payable $300 in cash and the balance secured by mortgage on the home quarter. This act, in effect, gives the purchaser a clear title. The farmer bought without having to pay the mortgagee's debt on the debt. This is true regardless of whether the purchaser is in a position to pay the debt or not, and deprives the farmer mortgagee (the Vendor) of all rights at all.

The position of the urban home owner is even better under the statute. If by the person who owns a mortgage on urban property can make any steps to realize on his security unless and until he pays into the fund the sum of $2,000, which can be paid out to the debtor when the final order is made. It was pointed out to the meeting that it would actually cost the holder of a mortgage on which there was $10,000, a further sum of $2,000, or $12,000 in all to realize a debt half that amount. In fact no mortgage creditor would be justified on a dollar and cents basis in even starting an action. It merely means that in the case of all mortgages on urban property the debt has been reduced by $2,000, and where the debt is that amount or less, the Legislature has made a provision so that the debtor's ability to pay the debt be contracted for value in good faith.

The limitation of Actions Act. By amendment to this act, any proceedings to realize on any debt, be taken prior to July 1st, 1940, other than the debt becomes outlawed. The creditor must get a new written agreement from his debtor in order to enforce this, and there is no relief provided by the Statute in the case where the debtor refuses to sign such an agreement. The creditor has no right at all except to go to the Debt Adjustment Board (a government created body) for a permit to proceed, which might or might not be granted. Experience before this body indicates that unless the creditor is prepared to take just what the Board decides he ought to get, then he will get no permit to proceed, and not having any written agreement renewing the debt from the debtor, all his rights will be completely extinguished.

Enacted after July 1st, 1940. The Limitations of Actions Act as Amendment outlaws the debt, and the Amendment to the Debt Adjustment Board the right to any action, so that the creditor is caught on the horns of a dilemma, neither of which affords him any relief or comfort in his particular predicament.

The Debt Adjustment Act

A new part is added to this Statute and some other drastic amendments included. The effect of the new part is to put all creditors at the mercy of the debt adjustment board. It was pointed out to the meeting that the necessity of adjusting the private debt of the Province was one of the major difficulties facing Alberta. The effect of this Statute however, coupled with the other legislation was such that it gave no consideration to the ability of the debtor to pay and treated all debtors alike.

The Tax Recovery Act

Exemption was taken to Section 21 (2) of the 1938 amendment to this Act. By this section it is possible for a mortgagee, who feels that his mortgage may not have sufficient funds to prevent foreclosure for non-payment of taxes to allow the property to go to sale, and then render it himself or through certain of his relatives and get a title clear of all mortgages, that is to say, all the rights of his mortgagees completely extinguished. Read in conjunction with the other acts it is clear that this affords the owner of property with an additional method of acquiring a title clear of all mortgages, and another means of frustrating other people's money.

The Securities Tax Act

This Act levies an amount of 2 per cent on the principal amount of all mortgages—such as—see—May—1938, and is payable on or before June 1st, 1940, and couples with it extraordinary penalties for non-payment. Should a person be in the fortunate position of being liable for income tax for the year 1937, then in that case he must contribute 2 per cent of the principal amount of all mortgages held by him. It does not matter that under the other Statutes, he may have no right to proceed. The mortgage may be quite worthless or be worth only half its face value, the tax has to be paid. It is immaterial under the Act, if the mortgage has been given as collateral security to a merchant, a wholesale house or a bank, the interest of goods sold or money lent on which the owner of the mortgage may have to pay interest. It is sufficient for the Government that the man pays income tax 1937, he ought therefore to be good for another touch of 2 per cent of the principal on all mortgages which he may own.

The Production Tax Act

The provisions of this Act were not considered at this meeting, prior to the passing of the resolution to be sent to the Government-in-Council, but after the resolution was passed several questions were asked, and it was decided that at the next meeting, this act would also be brought into the discussion. As it affects the interests of farmers only, it is hoped that the meeting will be well attended by agriculturists.

Mr. W. E. Cain, M.L.A. for Bow Valley, will be asked to attend this meeting, and it is expected that if he does attend, he will present to the meeting the Government's side of the legislation.

CANADA IN THE COMMONWEALTH

SPEAKING ON Canada's foreign policy, Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King has said just what anyone expected he would say. Canada, according to the Prime Minister, and he should know, has no commitments to engage in war or to remain in a state of neutrality in event of war. Whether or not Canada goes to war will be a matter for Parliament to decide.

Such in brief in Canada's declared policy as a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

The Prime Minister's statement causes us to wonder if Canada is a part of the British Commonwealth of Nations, if she has any obligations at all to the Empire, or if she has already severed the sentimental tie which bound her to the Motherland, or are we a part of the Empire in name only?

Continuing the Prime Minister said, "May I say the way has come to cease speaking of the Dominions as if they were some peculiar half-fledged type of community and all alike in their interests and views. Such a usage leads to confusion at best and misrepresentations at worst. South Africa is South Africa, New Zealand is New Zealand, Australia is Australia, and Canada is Canada, and it will help to good understanding if that elementary fact is borne in mind."

Exception cannot be taken to the literal truth of this statement. No one is likely to argue, for example, that Australia is Canada or vice versa.

If anything can be deduced from the statement as reported, it would seem that Canada is destined to play a lone hand as a sovereign state, even while claiming to be an integral part of the British Commonwealth. Is it any wonder that in many quarters the question is being asked, "Is the British Empire falling apart with each of its component parts following their own divergent routes?"

BLEEDING OURSELVES WHITE

BRITISHERS in Great Britain are being called upon these days to make tremendous sacrifices admittedly for protection of their own interests in Great Britain and elsewhere. They ever do not, in our opinion justly Le Droit, a publication from Ottawa, indulging in reasoning of this nature—

"There is really no reason to feel pity over the huge sums which Britain is at present spending, going to reinforce her navy and her air aviation. She is imposing these sacrifices on herself for the protection of her interests which are not those of Canada. . . . Why should Canada bleed herself white in defence of England and the Empire?"

If past performances do present intentions count for anything, there is no great danger of Canada bleeding herself white—even for the protection of her own interests, but which by some peculiar process of reasoning, we claim ought to be protected by the force of British arms. What force protects Canadian shipping on the high seas? Surely no one will aver that the four second-hand out-of-date destroyers comprising the Canadian navy need do the job.

Certainly, all the interests which Great Britain is seeking to protect are not all Canadian. Her interests are world-wide and it is to her interest to see that the channels of trade and commerce are kept open in the seven seas. Great Britain takes the logical step and protects her own interests.

Canada's trade and commerce is also world-wide but apparently it is a matter of little concern to her whether the channels of trade can be kept open in time of conflict, for she provides no protection of her own. She chooses to rely on Great Britain in the first place with great certainty, and failing that on such assistance and protection as Uncle Sam may extend.

President Roosevelt once said that "We are prepared to fight for Canada on what qualifications?" If Canada was attacked or invaded? But that would not imply that the U.S. Navy would see fit to protect Canadian Trade, say in the Orient. If Le Droit thinks that, they are relying on a rather weak reed.

PLENTY OF MONEY

NEITHER SCARCITY of money, financial difficulties of the Province, the Federal Government, or the Supreme Court prevented the Legislature from increasing sessional indemnities by $200 per member per session or providing $100,000 for the purposes of the Social Credit Board, or taking any of the numerous other steps involving matters of money which appear inconsistent with the conception of scarcity of the commodity.

If a report emanating from Edmonton be correct, then the climax has been capped. The report says that G. F. Powell, Social Credit technician, imported from England, is returning to the place from whence he came, and by order-in-council has been granted a bonus of $4,000 for services rendered making a total of $8,618 paid to this gentleman since his advent into Alberta. This sum is made up of the above bonus $3,618 for subsistence and travelling expenses and $1,000 covering expenses travelling from England.

There is no money available for many things, but plenty of it available for other things, including solace to the wounded bride of an alleged technical expert, who overstepped himself in his zeal for the cause, and to enable him to ruminate on the peculiarities of Canadians in general and further ways and means of exploiting Albertans in particular.

INVOKING DISALLOWANCE

PUBLIC BODIES, not only in Alberta, but elsewhere throughout the Dominion seem to have become conscious of the effects of recent Provincial legislation as it affects Canada in general and Alberta in particular.

It was felt that the Federal Government could be relied upon to disallow some of the more notorious of these Statutes, but the word appears to have been passed around that this was not at all certain, and not even likely, unless there was a demand for such action. If this is true, it would seem that a lead has been taken from the book of the Alberta Government in ascertaining "the Will of the People."

However, be that as it may, protests and requests for disallowance are pouring into Ottawa in a wholesale manner. Armed with these, it is hoped that the Federal Government will find it has enough public support to warrant it taking drastic action. It is not likely that a decision will be reached or action taken, until after the election in Saskatchewan on June 8th.

Headed by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce with Headquarters at Montreal, Boards of Trade and Branches of the Canadian Chamber and other public bodies have joined the chorus in presenting requests and petitions for disallowance, but if the election in Saskatchewan should result in a verdict favourable to Social Credit, it is not certain that the Governor-General-in-Council would feel justified in interfering again with the course of events in the Western Provinces.

From Our Exchange Columns

RECOMMENDS THE FUTURES SYSTEM

THE REPORT of Judge Turgeon on various methods of selling Canada's export wheat recommended that the futures system be continued and the wheat board be used as an auxiliary in case of troubled marketing conditions. The report stated that overseas buyers mistrust boards and prefer to buy through the exchange. To illustrate, a wheat board to sell all Canadian wheat would incur suspicion of a brood, Judge Turgeon says, and would hinder the widespread selling of our wheat.

While the ultimate buyers of Canadian wheat may have suspicions of wheat boards the original sellers here have their suspicions of exchange, so that matter seems to result in a draw. Our farmers think that the price vacillates too easily on the exchange and there is always an inclination to dip heavily when large quantities of wheat are for sale on our prairie farms.

The buyers must have the inside track, however, if Canada's wheat is to be sold in substantial quantities abroad and this country must meet their wishes. So there will be no wheat board for Canada and the government must let the having a sigh of relief. Being in the wheat business is just as hard on governmental nerves as on those of the individual.

If a war comes along and wheat prices sky-rocket we wonder what the attitude will be in official circles. Will a board be established to keep down the price of wheat as many western farmers suspect was done during the last great war?—Hanna Herald.

CROWNED A YEAR

A KING who ascended the throne seventeen months ago in unprecedented circumstances and was crowned a year ago has justified himself in the eyes of the vast number of people who compose the British Empire. He has proved himself a democratic sovereign, true to the tradition of British monarchy as it appears to democratic people. In the short time he has been on the throne he has gone through the apprenticeship of kingship in a position he never expected to occupy. He has brought to it by his fortuitous course of circumstances. It was no easy task King George VI was called upon to undertake in following the footsteps of a popular king who needed courage and an assurance in himself.

With a year as crowned King passing, King George VI is no longer an apprentice in the art of kingship. He has proved his worth as will be ungrudgingly admitted by the millions over whom he reigns. He has made a success of monarchy according to the British ideal in his endeavor to follow in the tradition set by a father who gained the affection and the reverence of the multitudes who live under the British flag. Here is the secret of that success which he sought. Suffering from an impediment of speech, he faced the ordeal courageously in following the example of his father in those broadcasts which, in their nature, serve to bind the Empire together in the intimate contact of the throne with the people.

Devotion to his people has been the guiding principle in the responsibilities which George VI took over, and today King George stands with his feet secure in the firm foundation of the love and respect of the peoples over whom the King reigns. In the family life of the King is mirrored the ideal family life of the British peoples. In this he has been blessed with a consort worthy of him. In the way he has shown himself monarch worthy to endure as a priceless possession of the Commonwealth of British Nations. A king who was hurriedly called to reign has shown himself worthy of the trust expected from him and today the peoples of the Empire stand united under a common accepted allegiance. ## SASKATCHEWAN'S OPPORTUNITY

IN THE NEXT WEEK and probably for the duration of the Saskatchewan election campaign, the Alberta Social Credit government will be making a drive on Saskatchewan electors. Premier Aberhart and seven other members of the government are working the field.

Three years ago they were doing the same thing in Alberta, and making converts by the score. It is true that few people professed to understand what they were talking about. The one vision which was kept burnished like a lamp in the darkness was the dividend of $25.00 a month. So the credulous listeners dismissed the strange language which clothed this promise, as evidence of a great mind and let it go at that.

Three years have gone by and there are conspicuously fewer people in Alberta who are able to understand Social Credit. And the bright light of $25.00 a month has flickered and gone out.

Saskatchewan appears to have certain advantages over Alberta—an advantage at least of three years of Social Credit test and failure. It would be surprising if all the Saskatchewan constituencies will be as meek as Alberta in permitting Mr. Aberhart to hand pick their candidates. When he picks, he picks a fool best suited to his purpose, although it may not be best suited to the needs of the electorate.

It is to be hoped that Saskatchewan audiences are a little more inquiring and less gullible than Alberta people. One might suggest that they ask questions, and make some attempt to penetrate the obscurity of Social Credit language. Alberta people, quite sensible people of fair intelligence, have been trying earnestly and with some success, to understand these theories for three long, bitter years.

Do not be put off with unconstructive, meaningless talk of financial enemies and the oppression of the Federal government. Try to extract something tangible and concrete, capable of realization. If the introduction of Social Credit is predicated on the collapse of the dominion federation and the annihilation of financial institutions, it is not enough.

Because Confederation is not going to be destroyed, and financial institutions must still play a part in the scheme of things. To follow the irrational ravings of Premier Aberhart without any clear conception of where he is leading, is to fail in taking the ordinary precautions that would be taken in any business deal.

Remember, Premier Aberhart was elected in Alberta almost three years ago, with a majority of heathenism as few leaders ever assembled. He was absolutely confident in the expressed word at least—that he would pay dividends that he would create lower taxation, that he would create plenty for all and that he would eliminate poverty.

Since that time taxation has increased, employment has not been relieved, poverty has continued. The government has shut its eyes to obligations and has reached a new high in being good to itself. But it has not been good to the electors who voted it into power. Is that good enough after three years? Saskatchewan people must decide for themselves, but their judgment should not be destroyed by Biblical language and oratory. Vulcan Advocate.

War Against Grasshoppers Conducted

The Agricultural Pests Act on the Statute books of the Province of Alberta requires every owner and occupant of land to destroy all pests specified within the Act. This may not be generally known and the government is drawing attention to the Act at the present time due to the possible wide-spread grasshopper menace.

Each municipal district is required to conduct an oversight over the farms within its boundaries and to serve notices upon any farmer neglecting the provisions of the Act. In the event of any person falling within 3 days after such notice has been served upon him to obey such directions any officer may secure the proper material and take necessary action to destroy the prevalent pest. The cost of such procedures are charged against the land. Further the Act provides a penalty of a fine of not more than $100 for failure to comply with the provisions of the Act.

The following suggestions and recommendations are made with respect to the control of grasshoppers:

1. Every few days, after May 15th, examine carefully all roadsides, headlands and weedy or abandoned fields. Report discovery of hoppers immediately to the Municipal Secretary.
2. Do not sow stubble land. If absolutely necessary to seed stubble land it should be PLOWED DEEPLY.
3. Land to be sown should be plowed early in the spring to bring egg pods to its surface where wind and sun may destroy them.
4. Plough four rod grid strips to control the stubble fields. Cultivate such fields from the outside towards

WHO OWNS CANADA'S BANKS?

Who are the owners and what do they do?

JIM BROWN, carpenter—your next-door neighbor—may be one of the supposed "Big Shots" who own the banks in Canada. He may own a couple of shares, or maybe only one.

Women, executors or trustees of estates, and retired people, comprise about 63 per cent. of the shareholders in one of Canada's banks, taken as an example.

Analysis of this particular bank, which may be regarded as typical, shows that women own nearly half of its shares. Farmers, merchants and professional men are the most numerous of the classes listed.

There are 260 occupations represented among the shareholders. They include:

Accountants, actors, bankers, bank-keepers, boat-builders, bricklayers, carpenters, chemists, clerical men, dairymen, dentists, doctors, drivers, druggists, farmers, foremen, forest rangers, funeral directors, grocers, insurance agents, janitors, journalists, linotypists, lobster buyers, miners, oil operators, plumbers, policemen, rail directors, there are 172 directors of Canada's chartered banks—dozent people like yourselves. 50,185 people hold the 1,445,000 chartered bank shares issued. Seventy out of every hundred shares are owned in Canada.

The average share-holding is 23.5 shares—but all through the lists of bank shareholders you will find hundreds who own from one to five shares.

There is no concentration of ownership and power in the hands of any small group. These shareholders annually elect directors. There are 172 directors of Canada's chartered banks. Their addresses dot the map of Canada from coast to coast. They are men of proven business ability; their own success has proved their judgment good; that judgment is always alert in safeguarding their money. Their business experience reinforces the skill and training of the salaried bank executives in conserving the interests of the

Arrowwood

Mrs. D. Viardot left for her home in Lethbridge last week where she will visit for a short time.

The Catholic Ladies sponsored a tea in Lethbridge on Saturday, May 21, and were very pleased with the results.

The Junior U.P.A. met at the home of Miss Norma House on Saturday, May 21st. Quite a few new members were added to the roll and all reported a good time.

Congratulations to Mr. H. Miller, principal of the Arrowwood School, in obtaining his B.Sc. Degree.

Miss Cunningham an old-timer of the Arrowwood District, passed away at her home Friday evening at the age of 74. Miss Cunningham was a highly respected citizen of this district and had many friends. Funeral services were held at Glenora on Monday.

Don't forget the Arrowwood Sports Day on June 2nd, Baseball, soccer, and a Big Dance at night.

On Sunday last, returned home on Friday after visiting for a week at the home of Mrs. Hanson of Moss-leigh.

Arrowwood 10—Carleton 5

On Sunday last, on the local baseball diamond, the fans of Arrowwood were treated to their opening game of the season, with the home team turning in a decisive victory over the Carleton nine. Richards starting on the mound for Arrowwood, allowed five hits for five runs in the first two innings. Mound duties were then taken over by Fred Miller who allowed only two hits for no tallies in the remainder of the game. Cold, starting pitcher for Carleton, ran into difficulties by allowing five runs and two hits for five runs in the first two innings. Crellin then relieved, and held Arrowwood hitless for the next three. Crow, taking over mound duties for the remainder of the game allowed four hits and two runs to give Arrowwood a 10-5 win. The game was called at the end of the seventh on account of rain.

THREAT OF CUTOFF DAMAGE IN THIS DISTRICT

The pale western cutworm threat is to do damage over a large area of Southwestern Alberta this season. The threatened area centres on Bow Island and extending roughly from Lethbridge, Alberta, to Gull Lake, Sask., and from the International boundary to Bassano, Alta., and Calgary. Dry seasons within this area are invariably followed by increases in the cutworm population.

Makepeace Musings

People are busy in the fields in the Makepeace district, while pupils of the school are busy mousing over the track meets to their future.

The Tenth meeting of the Junior Red Cross was held in the Makepeace School on May 21st, and it proved to be a very successful affair. Most of the pupils took part in the program. After the program the group sang the National Anthem, and then departed for the homes.

We have only 6 admirable boys in our school, but they all have one weakness, a scackle that blinds, and this is how they express it.

—Alvin Mullen says:
Oh some way long for the soothing Of lavender cream or nautie. But the tie I wear must possess the glare

Of a red-hot kitchen stove.
—Edward Madson says:
The books I read and the life I lead. Are sensible and mild.

I like calm hats and I don't wear caps.
—Billy Jorgensen says:
I want my neck ties wild.

—Donald Malt says:
Give me a wild tie brother. One with comic urge.

A tie that will swear and rip and tear. When it sees my old blue serge.

—Johnny Jorgensen says:
Oh some way say that a gentle crawl. Should only be seen, not heard.

—Donald Jorgensen says:
Give me a wild tie brother. One with lots a stin.

A tie that will blaze in the hectic haze.
Down where the west begins.

—Mr. Mall—
"Where has Donald gone?"
Mr. Mall—"If the ice is as strong as he thinks it is, he has gone skating. If not—he has gone swimming."

—Clarence Bulger is home from the hospital now. We wish him a speedy recovery to health.

The annual Track Meet will be held on the Makepeace School grounds beginning at 1 p.m. sharp on Friday the 2nd of June. Grandstands, bleachers, Adams Lake and Towere schools have been invited to compete. It is expected there will be keen competition. The school which holds the Makepeace school has held for the last two consecutive years. Visitors are welcome to watch the young athletes perform.

A dance will be held in Makepeace on June 3rd. Everybody welcome.

A splendid crowd turned out to watch the ball practice on Sunday. To wind up the afternoon the Makepeace School softball team played a pick-up team. The results were in favor of the school team 13-3. An oncoming rain storm rushed most people to their homes. These showers are very welcome however.

A wet season greatly reduces the amount of damage that may be caused by cutworms. In the average dry season an infestation at the rate of six cutworms per square yard is sufficient to destroy the entire crop. This is due to cut worms feeding on the plants below ground and eating only a small portion of each plant. With excessive moisture the cut worms may feed on the upper portion of the plant and one plant will furnish enough food for several days. In addition some of the injured plants will recover and send out new stocks.

DO YOU NEED A RELIABLE

Tonic?

Pepton is a genuine tonic that has been used in many families for years. Pepton gives satisfaction. It helps people with faded appetites to regain an interest in really pulling a chair up to the table and welcoming everything in the meal from soup to pie.
Pepton also furnishes iron to the blood where it is lacking in the diet. It is especially beneficial in cases of simple nutritional anemia. Other people who are convalescing or just feel weak find Pepton a great help in stimulating the appetite, so that more food is eaten to build new strength and energy.

Pepton is sold only at REXALL DRUG STORES and on a money-back guarantee.

To Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilson of Gleichen, a son on May 26th, 1938.

CROP REPORT

fair condition with but small losses.

In a portion of the central part of the south-east corner of the Province local winter conditions created an unusually hard stock season, and in this area the stock appears to be in rather thin condition.

Lambing appears to have been accompanied by smaller losses than usual, with the major loss of the period being due to on or two unusually severe blizzards during lamb-ing time. Sheepsmen suffered some losses in their grown flocks due to these same blizzards.

In spite of cool weather, ample moisture over the range lands of the South has brought the grass along fairly well, and the range stock which were generally in low condition in the spring, are now improving and thriving on the new grass.

The brighter prospects in most year is leading to a slight increase in interest being shown in hogs. Live stock markets can only be termed as fair with about normal run of stock at the present time.

Some relief food continues to move to last year's drought districts for work horses through the spring work period. "Seed grain has been supplied to drought area farmers under the usual regulations.
